Hi All,

Elena is having a day or two off (remember she only works part-time for us at the moment) and I thought I'd send out a quickie to give those of you in the UK something to do for 5 minutes of this wet and windy weekend.

The League Against Cruel Sports are mounting a lobby of Westminster MPs and I'm hoping you will add your weight to this. Fox hunting laws are devolved and most MPs representing Scottish constituencies have a policy of not getting involved in English matters. I'm not sure if any MPs for Wales have the same policy.

However when moves to ban fox hunting were first proposed at Westminster I asked all MPs for Scotland to put animal welfare before party policy and vote for the ban. Most of them did. I'm hoping we can persuade them to do likewise this time. The link at the bottom of this email will take you to the very easy to complete lobbying email.

What I'd like you to do is add the following sentence to the beginning of your email (you might want to change Rees-Smugg to Rees-Mogg if you don't find that nasty piece of work very funny). If you are in Wales remove that reference and change "Scotland" to "Wales".

Cheers4now,

John

"Although this is a devolved issue I hope you will participate as animal welfare is above politics and the English based Master of Foxhounds Association governs registered fox hunt packs in Scotland and Wales. It's also a good excuse to remind Westminster that, no matter what Jacob Rees-Smugg thinks, Scotland is not an insignificant backwater."
